SUMMARY

A hardworking, motivated individual with a passion for web development and programming, seeking employment as a frontend developer. In addition, I have strong positive attitude to learning new tools and technologies. My main advantages are individual learning and planning. I always try to make a daily plan in my notebook. Describing character traits, I'm "Extroverted Introvert", on the one hand, it's easy for me to get along with people, and on the other, I can spend hours doing one job and not be bored. I always like to learn something new and develop my professional skills, and that's why I have strong motivation to work and develop myself.
